Sunday Schools, etc., and does not fail to touch on some of the pressing social questions of the day. The book is full of hints from a broad minded and practical man, and will be of great value to some, and may be of some profit to others even though out of sympathy with some of the Bishop's views.

Bishop Lightfoot. Reprinted from the Quarterly Review with a prefatory note by BROOKE FOSS WESTCOTT, Bishop of Durham. London: Macmillan & Co., 1894. Price, $1.25.

This sketch was published in the Quarterly Review for January, 1893. It is a loving and reverent tribute from one who evidently knew the Bishop well, and deserves to be preserved in this graceful and attractive form. It is especially valuable for the picture of the later years of the life of this great and good man—the years which were spent in the active work of his bishopric. It thus shows him both as a man and as a student, though probably the first is the more prominent because it was the more impressive. The prefatory note, by Dr. Westcott, the life-long friend of Bishop Lightfoot, adds an interesting feature.

The Christian Ministry. Its present claim and attraction, and other writings. By THEODORE C. PEASE, Bartlet Professor of Sacred Rhetoric in Andover Theological Seminary. Boston: Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1894. Price, $1.25

This is a memorial volume of Professor Pease, who died when about to enter on his first course of lectures at Andover. The title of the volume is the subject of the inaugural address which he delivered on accepting the chair of Sacred Rhetoric in the Seminary. The volume is made up of this inaugural, some lectures on homiletics, sermons, a study of Dante's Inferno, and some scattering poems and hymns. It contains an introduction by Professor E. C. Smyth and a biographical sketch.

The book is a beautiful tribute offered to him whose usefulness and goodness it perpetuates by the publication of much of the best and maturest of his thinking.
